

Computer Science Student Wins Award at Graduate Research Fair

On April 15th UMSL held the annual Graduate Research Fair with poster presentations from 47 participants representing all departments in the university. A Master's student from our department, Drew Ryder, was awarded second place in the Natural Sciences category for his research titled "Plant Root Detection using Computer Vision".

