- Being able to talk about and write about his favorite thing he likes to, which is playing volleyball.
- Reading the books
- The titles they work with.
- Marks least favorite subject is reading and writing. He was ready to go on all of the sessions, never gave me any problems getting on. In fact he was ready to go before I even had to remind him. He thoroughly loved it.
- Socializing
- She enjoyed her tutor
- She was nice and took time to get to know him which made it easier for a weekly hour zoom. This was such a great experience for him!

What suggestions do you have for the tutor/teacher to improve the literacy sessions?

- The teacher did a good job in engaging with the student and being personal. I suggest the teacher to do that and keep up the great work.
- I really like how student focus is the program and how teacher look way to motivate my son. However I think he still struggling with reading and writing so just may question of time to gain more confidence from my son.
- No suggestions. Everything she did was great for Mark!
- More practice on reading and writing
- I thought it was really great! With the younger kiddos maybe a couple more smaller breaks to just stretch or do something else for 3 mins. Then get back to it. It was at night after a long day of school so keeping the engagement up is high.
