Biographical/Historical note

Bob Goodwin was born on May 26, 1946 at St. Mary's Hospital in St. Louis. Like many people of his era in St. Louis, Bob attended Catholic school, his formal education beginning at St. Margret's Parish, and after primary school continuing on to Vianney High School, where science and history came easy to him. Bob was a consummate sports enthusiast, and he played at one point or another in his formative years baseball, track, soccer and football. Bob also was very enthusiastic about extra-curricular activities, including the cub and boy scouts and Glee Club. Bob continued his education by obtaining a BA in Psychology from St. Benedicts College and graduate courses from the School of Law at St. Louis University.

Bob met his wife, Bonnie, and fathered five children with her, along the way also having a lone and distinguished professional career. Before working for MARAD, he worked in both the private and public sectors of the river industry, for Jefferson Barracks Marine Service, St. Louis Shipbuilding and Steel, American Waterways Operators, Inc., Fabrick Marine, the St. Louis Port Authority, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, Water Resources Congress, and the Material Sales Co. Bob was also involved heavily in a volunteer capacity in many local organizations, both historical and river-related; The Propeller Club, the Mercantile Library, the St. Louis Port Council, the St. Catherine Laboure School, the St. Louis Fleeters Association, the East Side Rivermens Association, and the County Catholic Credit Union. Mr. Goodwin worked for MARAD from 1995 to the time of his death, in 2010.
